How would you like to have that? Just something for day changes (as suggested in #102), or in general for all messages?

A very nice idea by nonickname2: display the date (and other metadata, like the sender's hostmask) in the status bar on hover...

1) I think #102 is "resolved"

2) I still would like to have a (configurable) date in front of my time. The "Day changed to foobar" is good, but sometimes I have to scroll a lot of backlog to find the day a certain message belongs to. A "onhover" wouldn't do the trick if I want to copy&paste a line with date/time.
