Description I would like to see a feature similar to the screen_away plugin for irssi. If enabled, then the core would automatically set the user as "away" on all networks, using a customizable away message, whenever the client was disconnected. An option to change to an away nick could also be included, though probably not necessary as unneeded/excessive nick changes are often frowned upon.

Work in progress, options are now available in IdentitiesSettingsPage and Identity, the functional implementation sits halfly-completed on Daante's hdd and waits for polishing, testing and merging :)
