Description
I think a server and channel list is very friendly for new user. A list like xchat will be good. I look at the code of xchat for integrate that if you would ;)

When you setup a new network, you can chose from a list of predefined networks. I think that's what you mean with server list.

The channel list is also already there. Maybe we should move that to a more obvious spot (Toolbar?). Right click on a network and select "show channel list".
