

Quassel IRC - Feature #864

Ability to retake nick

11/26/2009 10:34 AM - McoreD

Description When there is a internet disconnection and the router connects to the internet again, the core attempts to reconnect to the IRC servers. This is fine.  I have two nicks: McoreD and LionMike with McoreD as primary. At any given time, I would like McoreD as the nick in IRC.  Sometimes McoreD would still remain in the IRC server until the server detects the timeout. In this situation, the Quassel client will join to the IRC Server as LionMike. This is fine also.  My request is an option or to automatically retake McoreD (primary nick) when that nick finally quits the server.  Thanks.

This will most probably be implemented as a script, not as part of the native client.
